Satechi Intros Mac-Matching USB-C Hub

Written by Marco Attard
 11 May 2016

Accessory maker Satechi announces the Aluminium Mini Docking Station-- a compact hub ideal for use with the latest MacBooks, able to expand the USB-C port into x4 USB 3.0 ports while adding networking and A/V ports.

The hub provides x USB 3.0 ports and a 3.5mm jack in the front, and x2 USB 3.0 ports, ethernet port, HDMI port and DVI port in the back. The company says the HDMI port supports 4K output or multiple monitors via the DVI out.

As the name suggests construction is in aluminium, with a silver colour matching with Apple hardware. It is available now.

Go Satechi