

Users of the 2017 iMac and iMac Pro get a new Satechi accessory-- the USB-C Clamp Hub Pro, an add-on plugging into one of the rear Thunderbolt 3 slots to add more ports.

Made out of aluminium, the Clamp Hub Pro offers three USB 3.0 Type-A ports with 5Gbps data transfer, as well as an SD card reader. Setup promises to take just a few seconds thanks to an adjustable knob, and the slim design should add little visual bulk to the iMac.

Compatibility includes the 2017 iMac Pro, 2017 4K 21.5-inch iMac and 2017 5K iMac.

The Clamp Hub Pro is available in silver or space gray, and ships from January 2017.
