

Wifi Market Goes Flat in Q2

Written by Marco Attard
05 October 2011

In-Stat reports the WW wifi network equipment market remains "relatively flat" compared to Q1 2011, with revenues staying at around $1.6 billion.

The 802.11n segment accounts for 68% of total wifi shipments, reaching 5.27M units with strongest growth-- shipments increase by 17% Q-o-Q and revenues grow by 7% Q-o-Q.

USB wifi devices also seen an increase of 8.6%.

TP-Link leads the global wifi market, with 26% market share. Netgear takes second place, with 19% share, while D-Link follows with 17%.

Linksys is at 4th place (7% market share) and Pace takes the 5th (5%).

Go Q2 2011 Wifi Equipment Tracker \(In-Stat\)