First WiMAX MID Shown at CTIA in USA

In USA at CTIA, Samsung Mobile brings out the Samsung Mondi, the “most advanced mobile WiMAX-enabled handheld device in America”.

The 4.3” touch screen Mondi comes in a compact size that fits into the hand or pocket. With a solid black finish, this MID sports a QWERTY keyboard. The Mondi carries GPS navigation and features multimedia (E-mail, Internet, video and business applications).

Mondi uses an Opera 9.5 web browser, and is customizable via a set of widgets that can be dragged and dropped anywhere on the display screen.
