

Altec Lansing Shows iPhone Dock

Written by Bob Snyder
11 March 2008

Many industry observers were surprised when Gartner reported worldwide mobile phone sales reached 1.15 billion units in 2007 and three new companies made the Top 10. Apple, outsider to the telecom industry, made the list.

German distributor MacLand, specialist in third party solutions for Apple, held its annual MacLand@CeBIT day in the Convention Center.

There Altec Lansing's Dirk Gerber showed the T612 sound dock, one of the first iPhone docks. Altec's range of iPod decks is well-established but the iPhone dock joins a new wave of iPhone accessories and peripherals that will spur retail and etail sales.

Go Altec iPhone dock T612