

Networked CE to Feature at IFA

Written by Bob Snyder
05 September 2008

The largest CE convention in Europe with 1200 exhibitors and 200,000 visitors, IFA Berlin will feature networked entertainment technology.

Sony will introduce plug-in adapters to wirelessly connect Bravia TVs to internet. Philips will show stereo systems that stream music throughout the house. Sonos will offer its new multi-zone digital music system.

Sharp, Samsung and others will present flat-panel TVs are internet-ready. HP joins in with its MediaSmart LCD TV that streams HD video.

GO Networked CE