Norman launches Security Suite 9, the latest version of its consumer PC cyber security software.

The company says the program is future ready for Windows 8, and offers protection for customers surfing, shopping and banking online.

Improvements in version 9 include simplified user interface and license management, better performance (through lower memory and CPU usage) and faster scanning malware cleaner.

The Norman Security Suite also carries antivirus, antispyware, rootkit detection, antiphishing, smart firewall, parental controls and Norman Sandbox technology.

Browser support includes Internet Explorer, Firefox, Chrome, Safari and Opera.
