

Apple Store Vegas-Style is No Gamble

Written by Bob Snyder
31 July 2008

You only thought hotels in Las Vegas were extravagant wait until you see the new $8 billion CityCenter resort that opens next autumn on the city's world-famous Strip.

CES 2010 can be your first excuse to visit their anchor store a new Apple wonder-store (two levels and 20,000+ square-feet) housed in The Crystals retail section of the project, on the Las Vegas Blvd. side.

Developed by Mirage MGM and designed by 8 different architects with distinct styles to create unique spaces, the 76 acres complex of towers just south of the Bellagio hotel will feature over-the-top condos, hotels, casinos and 500,000 square-feet of retail space.

So now there will be three Apple stores in a 4-mile section of the Strip.

Look at Live Web Cam